Mrs. Vincenzia Veprek called at the Mayor's

HEWITT'S GAGE OF BATTLE.

IT CAUSES A BITTER FEELING AMONG THE WARRIORS OF TAMMANY.

His Pulmination Against the Wigwam Sald to Destroy All Hope of Union Between the Factions-Commissioner Croker Declares that the Mayor Has Been Hostile to Tammany for Some Time.

Mayor Hewitt has once more set the tongues of the local politicians a-wagging. He has kept them busy for months discuss ing his letters and interviews, but yester day's remarks of the Mayor to the City Hall reporters have created a great deal of excitement and gossip among the municipal statesmen of all parties, organizations and fac-

The Tammany Hall warriors are the ones who take the most exception to the Mayor's latest manifesto and the breach between the Fourteenth Street Wigwam and the City Hall is wider than the distance. Here are some of the points in Mayor Hewitt's interview that have roiled the Wigwam chiefs :

'I have not always appointed men to office that Tammany Hall had recommended to me. That is the only grievance they can possibly have against me.

"If Tammany Hall and the County Democracy should call upon me as a United Democracy and offer me a renomination, I should refuse it.

" At present I am with Tammany Hall-'agin ' the Mayor.

"It would only be an exigency that would induce me to serve another two years as Mayor."

"Such an exigency would undoubtedly arise if Tamman, Hall should put up a candidate for the office for the sole apparent purpose of securing the control of the appointive power to the offices in the gift of the Mayor. The question before the people would be:
'Does the government of the city of New York exist for the sole purpose of supplying Tammany Hall with patronage?' I should expect every good citizen, whatever his polities, to be arrayed against that principle."

Mayor Hewitt had not arrived at his office at noon to-day. It is not likely, however, that at present he will have anything more to say on the Mayoralty question. He will probably await to see the effect of his latest interview, and to ascertain what position Tammany Hall will take.

Commissioner Croker was on his way to his country residence at Saybrook, Conn., when seem by an Evenino World reporter. "I was not surprised," he said, "to read the remarks of Mayor Hewitt. He has been antagonistic to Tammany Hall for some time, and our organization has certainly not given him any cause for the attack "Such an exigency would undoubtedly arise and our organization has certainly not given him any cause for the attack.

Two years ago we proposed him for Mayor, and he was offered the nomination. No pledges were asked him. He has already admitted that he was tendered and accepted the provincial of the property of the province heaving the heaving the province heaving the heaving the heaving the heavince heaving the heav nomination without any question having been asked him, and without a suggestion being made to him about his acts if elected Mayor.

"I do not with to be drawn into any controversy with Mayor Hewitt, nor do I wish to give an opinion of the future course to be pursued by Tammany Hall. "I will, however, repeat what I said for publication some time ago that Tammany Hall has the interest of the city at heart, and will be found when the time comes support-ing a candidate for Mayor who can be voted for by all good Democrats and citizens."

for by all good Democrats and citizens."

Commissioner Croker, while not publicly proclaiming that he is opposed to a union with the County Democracy and without giving an opin on that there will be harmony, is frank enough to admit that he believes nonunion will help the N tional and State tickets fully 15,000 votes in this city.

He has sad in conversation with friends that the rivairy between the two organizations will tring out the Democra ic vo c. He also pooh-poohs the fear of selling out the national and State tickets for the local ticket. He says that any attempt to sell out Cleveland would be found out in five minutes and stopped.

He does not believe that Mayor Hamiltonian of England, and John Fitzpatrick.

Cleveland would be found out in five minut s and stopped.

He does not believe that Mayor Hewitt could be elected if nominated by the County Democracy, as he thinks the Republicans will nominate a straight ticket in a Presidential year and that Mr. Hewitt cannot possibly poll more than 25,000 Republican votes, and certainly not more than 25,000 Democratic votes.

more than 25,000 Republican votes, and certainly not more than 25,000 Democratic votes. This total added to the Independent vote that he might get would not elect him.

Then Commissioner Croker thinks the figures are too high, as he is confident that Mayor Hewitt's strength among the Republicans would be overestimated if their party nominates a strong Republican for Mayor. And the Commissioner does not believe that Mayor Hewitt's popular with the Independent voters.

is popular with the Independent voters, very many of whom he has antagonized by his official acts.

Sheriff Grant was also seen by The Even-ing World reporter. "I think," said the ING WORLD reporter. "I think," said the Sheriff, "that the Mayor's attacks on Tammany Hall are not deserved. We have never demanded any appointments from him.

"Whenever any vacancy has occurred we have recommended him a list of good and capable men to select from. That is all we have ever done.

"He is now trying to place Tammany Hall on the defensive, and I will not say what in my opinion is his object. He will, however, fail in his object.

A prominent Tammany Hall Chief, who did not care to have his name used, said: "I hope the County Democracy will nominate Mayor Hewitt. It would break up their organization. I know of at least eight County Democracy district leaders who would bolt the organization should he be renominated.

"Judge Murray has openly declared he will not support Mayor Hewitt. Yes, sir, there will be nothing left of the present County Democracy organization if Mayor Hewitt should be the candidate of that machine. The break of the Purroy people would be nothing in comparison to the break of the anti-Hewitt County Democrats."

WENT RIGHT TO HIS DESK.

MR. DEPEW WAS BUSILY AT WORK EARLY THIS MORNING.

The Great Man Himself Not More Cheer Than the News He Brings-A Prosperou Season Promised for American Farmers Supplying Grain to Europe-Foreign Politics Nearing a Crisis.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew has lost no time n getting into harness again, for at 10 o'clock this morning he was in the President's office at the Grand Central Depot busily engaged n posting himself up on what had occurred during his long absence abroad, and holding conferences with the other officers of the company.

He was looking as bright and cheery as a schoolboy just home from vacation, when he reporter of THE EVENING WORLD WAS ashered into his private room, and the latter was greeted thus jovially : "Well, you see I got here on time, thanks to a combination of Dutchman and railway, and mighty glad I am to be home again. I told the captain that all the New York Central road would be down to see me come in, and that the eyes of the American nation were upon him. He told me he'd get to New York at 1,10 and we got here at 2, which was near enough for all practical purposes. "Seriously," continued Mr. Depew, "I had a most interesting trip, and I come home feeling very well satisfied with the outlook for the United States from a business point of view."

feeling very well satisfied with the outlook for the United States from a business point of view."

"In what respect?"

"Why, the grain crop has been a failure all over Europe, both in England and on the Contnent, and if *peculators here do not corner the market and put up prices so high that the Europeans will have to fall back on Australia and India, there is going to be lots of money rolling into the pockets of the farmers this fail. I don't think the prospect of a prosperous business year was ever more brilliant than it is just now.

"In my travels on the Continent, what impressed me most was the volcanic nature of the political situation in France and Germany. It's a great deal more serious, I believe, than most people here imagine. I had the advantage of meeting many persons of prominence in diplomatic circles, and got information first hand. Emperor William is a fighter, and now he has a military establishment of 2,000,000 men behind him he wants to do something.

"The selle object of his visit to the Care."

2,000,000 men behind him he wants to do something.

"The sole object of his visit to the Czar recently was to secure Russia's neutrality in case of an outbreak with France. He did not succeed, because the Czar would promise it only on condition that he should have Bulgaria, and so give him an opening into Austria, which would hardly have been consistent with the terms of Germany's alliance with Austria.

Austria, which would hardly have been consistent with the terms of Germany's alliance with Austria.

"The little provocations which Germany is continually giving France, especially in Alsace and Lorraine, show that the Emperor is spoiling for a fight and doing all he can to stir up hostilities, and the French are just as active on their side. It has got so now that the German Embassy in Paris will not vise any passports of Alsacians who wish to return to their country after going into France.

"Mrs. Depew had with her a maid who was an Alsacian and had been with us for several years in New York. She wanted to see her old mother, who lived in one of the little towns in Alsace, and we decided, on our way to Germany, to pass through that country. When I went to have the passport vised at the German Embassy, they wouldn't pass the girl unless she would get a record of her birth, &c., from the Mayor of the town where she had lived, which would take about seven weeks. The American Minister said he could fix the thing all right, and they promised to give the girl her passport; but when she went to get it they refused to give it, and we had to leave her behind.

"France is also in a very bad condition

"France is also in a very bad condition politically, for everyth ng in the Government is upside down, and the uncertainty as to bow long the existing form will prevail keeps people in a distracted state."

"Does the Presidential campaign here arouse much interest abroad?"

"On the Continent not a particle, but in England it is everywhere discussed with interest. You cannot go into a store in London or any large city where, if you are known or suspected to be an American, they will not ask you all about it.

A terrible tragedy was enacted in Union Hill, N. J., to-day.

A husband who attempted to kill his wife was shot by her and died shortly afterwards. also made the following affidavit:

THE HOFFMAN HOUSE SUICIDE.

He Appears to Be Playwright Seebohm, Although the Evidence Is Circumstantial.

The identity of the Hoffman House suicide still remains a mystery. No further inquiries had been made at the hotel this morning, and the clerks have almost abandoned the hope that his true name will ever be known.

Mr. J. A. Fynes, the managing editor of the Chipper, which is an authority on dramatic matters, says that the evidence connecting the dead man with the playwright Seebohm is purely circumstantial, and nothing more definite could be learned until the arrival of the cablegram sent by him vesterday. Soon after his controversy with Mrs. Burnnett, Seebohm's name ceased to appear in the English dramatic papers, and Mr. Fynes, who was greatly interested in the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" case, cabed to London to inquire what had become of him, and was informed by one of his correspondents that Seebohm had started on a trip around the world, and this, coupled with the name on the coat and satchel, as well as his conversation with Mr. Hurley, the Hofman House guest, as told in The Wonld this morning, seems to complete the chain of evidence. ries had been made at the hotel this morning,

BYRNES'S BIG HAUL

Jewelry Swindler Schnell Brought from Canada.

Caught Trying to Sell the Stolen Diamonds.

He Cheated Eleven Malden Lane Merchants and Fled with His Booty-Arrested in Toronto While Trying to Sell the Jewels and Handed Over to Our Detectives-Now in a Cell at Headquarters.

Charles W. Schnell, the Brooklyn man who swindled downtown jewellers out of $11,000 worth of jewelry and diamonds, is in a cell at Police Headquarters, and Inspector Byrnes has recovered or will secure all the brilliant booty which the young optician ran away with.

Schuell had deak room in Ludwig, Missen t Co.'s store, 18 John street, and on a plea that he had an opportunity to dispose of some jewelry, secured $500 worth of diamonds. Following up this advantage, he played the memorandum check dodge and swindled the following firms: Hadeilpy & Sons, 171 Broadway, two diamonds worth $475; Block & Co., 14 Maiden lane, four diamond rings worth $1,000; E. Adler & Co, 14 Maiden lane, diamond earrings and studs worth $1,800; Mather & Wentworth, 16 Maiden lane, diamond earrings and studs worth $900; Marten, Copeland & Co., 9 Maiden lane, gold chains worth $600; P. Brethmar, 64 Nassau. street, one diamond worth $400; S. M. Far-street, one diamond worth $400; S. M. Farrell. 36 Maiden lane, gold watches worth $500; Middleton Brothers, 16 Maiden lane, gold watches and chains worth $600; F.

Neuman, 36 Maiden lane, gold watches worth $300; Ranngate & Co., 10 Maiden lane, diamong ring worth $200.

Several other firms were victimized by the shrewd Brooklynite. Schnell packed up his effects, closed his house in Gates avenue,
Brooklyn, and started with his wife and children for Springfield, Mass.

Inspector Byrnes was called upon; and he sent telegrams to Canada, satisfied that the American thief would seek shelter there,
Detectives Heidelberg and Sheridan traced Schnell to Springfield, captured two watches with his wife, traced him to Albany and learned that a man answering his description had taken passage on a train for Toronto, Canada.

Accompanied by two of the swindled merhad taken passage on a train for Toronto, Canada.

Accompanied by two of the swindled merchants, Heideiberg started for Canada. Meantime Schnell, while trying to dispose of two handsome diamonds, was arrested in Ottawa by Detective Groo, of the Custom-House, on suspicion of being a smuggler, and the Chief of Police, took him in custody on the strength of Inspector Byrnes's despatches.

on the strength of Inspector Byrnes's despatches.

Schnell was passing under the name of Theodore Willis, of Brooklyn, but when confronted by Heidelberg, Mr. Copeland and Mr. Rissen he admitted his identity and consented to come to New York without the formality of requisition, to make full restitution and take the chances of a trial here.

He arrived last night and made a full confession of guilt. The diamonds now in possession of the Custom authorities at Ottawa will be turned over to the Inspector and surrendered to the merchants who were so easily victimized by Schnell.

victimized by Schnell.

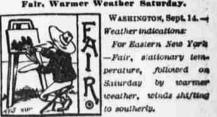

In an interview with Inspector Byrnes he told that official where most of the missing jewelry was. His wife, who resides with her mother at Springfield, Mass., was visited and found to be in possession of two watches and two chains, one of which is the property of Bernard, of Pearl street, while the other is owned by Middlieton & Brother. Schnell will be taken to the Tombs Court this aftervictimized by Schnel noon.

Inspector Byrnes feels joyful over having brought back one American refugee from Canada, and the affair is spoken of as the Inspector ho.ding court in Ottawa.
